Local retailers hope back-to-school tax free weekend delivers big economic boost

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Alabama's annual Back-to-School Sales Tax Holiday hits stores this weekend, and local retailers are hoping for one a great turnout, and on Monday of this week, Alabama Governor Kay Ivey encouraged Alabamians to begin preparing for the new school year by participating in the sales tax holiday.

This year's event will be Friday, July 21, through Sunday, July 23, and with certain items being exempt from the state sales tax, residents will have the opportunity to save money while gathering the supplies students need for the school year.

Items available for purchase during the weekend include traditional school supplies and computers, as well as school uniforms, gym suits and other types of clothing.

"With summer nearing its end, I know Alabama families are beginning to prepare for the quickly approaching school year," said Governor Ivey. "During this tax-free holiday weekend, pencils, calculators, binders and other essential school supplies will be eligible for purchase without incurring sales tax. I encourage everyone to take advantage of this relief, so students, teachers and parents alike can be equipped for the school year."

Many of the state's counties and municipalities have chosen to join the state by removing their own local sales and use taxes from the same items during the same weekend. Locally, this includes Elba, Enterprise, New Brockton, and Coffee County.

Dinah Coppage owns the Kids ~ Teens ~ Moms Unlimited clothing store located at the Shoppes at Taylor Crossing in Elba, and she said the Back-to-School Sales Tax Holiday is a major booster shot in the arm, so to speak, for small businesses like hers.

"I have been in retail for 34 years and owned by own business for 20 of those," Coppage said. "It [tax free weekend] is truly bigger than Black Friday, and the amount of revenue it brings in is much needed for all businesses but especially your smaller retailers."

She added that she is very thankful the City of Elba continues to participate in this tax-free event each year because it gives the businesses such a big economic boost.

"It becomes a much-needed blessing to us little guys and girls," Coppage said. "I am very hopeful this weekend will be the biggest year ever. We are very prepared for a large turnout, and we have our store packed out with our biggest inventory ever!"

On top of a large inventory for customers to choose from while shopping, Coppage said Kids Unlimited with offer tons of special doorbuster items and store-wide savings throughout the weekend.

"I am just praying all things combined that we have a huge, monster turnout," Coppage said.

A list of items eligible for Alabama's Back-to-School Sales Tax Weekend can be viewed in a graphic on Page 3 of today's paper.

Dinah Coppage, owner of Kids~Teens~Moms Unlimited in Elba is shown prepping her store earlier this week ahead of this weekend's Back-to-School Sales Tax Holiday. Coppage said this weekend has in the past provided a huge economic boost to small retail stores, like hers. She said she is hoping this year will be even bigger. Coppage's Elba store is one of several looking to benefit from the increased sales provided by tax free weekend.

Elba man arrested for conspiracy to commit a controlled substance crime

Officers with the Elba Police Department arrested one Tuesday, July 11, for conspiracy to commit a controlled substance crime.

According to Coffee County Jail records, Frederick Dean, age 31, of Elba was charged with the crime. He was booked into the county jail at 11:05 a.m. on July 11th.

As of press time this week, Dean remained in the county jail with a $30,000 bond set for the charge.

Enterprise man faces multiple charges following July 15th standoff/manhunt

An Enterprise man kept Enterprise Police and other law enforcement busy last Friday, July 14, before he was eventually arrested by police.

It was reported that Enterprise Police went to a home in the 100 block of Boll Weevil Circle at 4:06 a.m. last Friday morning in a report of a disorderly person. Officials said police found two men fighting in front of a home, and one of the two men ran into the house where he allegedly threatened officers and other victims with a gun.

Officials said they were able to get three occupants from the home while waiting on backup, but the suspect Shannon Scott Anthony, age 40, of Enterprise, barricaded himself inside the home. At 9:30 a.m., an entry team cleared the house and discovered that Anthony had fled.

This led to a multi-agency manhunt for the suspect. At approximately 12:30 p.m. Friday afternoon, Anthony was reported to have been located and hiding in an abandoned truck behind the Mitchell Dodge dealership on Boll Weevil Circle. He was armed and had barricaded himself in the vehicle, officials said.

After several hours of negotiations, the incident ended peacefully when Anthony surrendered to authorities. He was arrested and booked into the Coffee County Jail just after 8:30 p.m. Friday night.

On Saturday morning, July 15, Coffee County District Judge Josh Wilson held an initial appearance hearing via Zoom with Anthony. Twelfth Judicial Circuit District Attorney James Tarbox appeared on behalf of the State of Alabama to make arguments for why he fled Anthony's bond amounts should exceed the standard amounts set out in the Alabama Rules of Criminal Procedure.

"Given Anthony's criminal history, the fact that he recently posted bond on multiple charges in Houston County, and the events all day Friday, which include pointing a firearm at officers responding to the initial call, all lead the state to take the position that the defendant is a threat to public safety," Tarbox said.

Following argument, Judge Wilson set Anthony's bond at $250,000 for a burglary - second degree charge, $70,000 for a certain persons forbidden to possess a firearm charge, and $15,000 each on two counts of menacing. His bond amount for all charges totaled $350,000.

"The state appreciates all of our law enforcement partners and their actions during Friday's events," Tarbox said. "The collaboration between and assistance provided by numerous agencies led to the peaceful outcome of a situation that could have unfortunately been deadly."

On Monday, July 17, representatives from the District Attorney's office met with members of the Enterprise Police Department Criminal Investigative Division to discuss the facts and evidence obtained during last Friday events.

"After reviewing certain pieces of footage and other elements of this investigation, it was determined by law enforcement that there was probable cause to upgrade the main charge against defendant Anthony to Burglary - first degree, a Class A felony under the laws of the State of Alabama," Tarbox said. "The District Attorney's Office will seek to hold the defendant without bond pursuant to Code of Alabama 15-13-3 (Aniah's Law)."

Anthony remained in the Coffee County Jail as of press time this week. No bond had been set on the burglary - first degree charge.

Marley Acres offers farm adventures in Elba

by Mikailie Caulder,
Auburn University Living
Democracy Program student

Nestled discretely within the charming town of Elba lies a hidden gem, an extraordinary farm full of life. The captivating sanctuary serves as a haven for both children and families, offering a multitude of unforgettable experiences.

Home to many species of animals, children and adults alike find delight and comfort in the company of the gentle creatures. The remarkable location allows Marley Acres to be concealed within city limits yet enchantingly tucked away from plain sight.

The farm, owned by Carrie and Jamie Whitworth, started as a heartfelt tribute to their faithful German Shepherd, Marley. The property has since blossomed into a beloved home for all species of animals.

What began with the purchase of three animals, Shaggy, Sallie Mae, and Teddy, was just the beginning of an incredible journey. Marley Acres, now home to 50 animals, is a bustling hub of life.

Since it's humble beginning, Marley Acres has evolved and expanded.

"We keep adding pastures and clearing more land," Whitworth explained.

Their dedication is evident as they continue expanding and developing the property to accommodate their growing animal family.

Each day brings a range of responsibilities that need to be completed. Feeding and watering the animals, maintaining the barn, and taking care of the stalls are the essential tasks. The Whitworths emphasize the importance of ensuring the health and well-being of each individual animal.

Beyond the day-to-day operations, Marley Acres has become a place of community engagement and celebration. Opening its gates to the public this year, the farm began a new chapter.

It first functioned as an educational space open for preschoolers introducing their young minds to the wonders of the farm. Marley Acres provides an interactive venue for events and parties.

The farm grants guests the "opportunity to see animals you wouldn't see everyday" Whitworth explains.

Now, the Whitworths have added "farm days." These are full day tours of the farm with up-close animal encounters. With this experience those who attend will have the opportunity to learn everything about farm life.

The Elba Public Library recognized the unique educational opportunities offered at Marley Acres. With its diverse array of animals, the farm was an ideal venue for the summer reading kickoff event.

"Mistakes are a part of being human. Appreciate your mistakes for what they are: precious life lessons that can only be learned the hard way. Unless it's a fatal mistake, which, at least, others can learn from. — Al Franken"

Former President Donald Trump hit a bad shot on the golf course! That was the headlines on the internet several days ago... he actually 'shanked' a golf ball. Now that is important news. Not being a golfer, we can only guess there is not a single golf player who can honestly say that has never happened to them personally. The 'news' article goes on to imply that Trump is prone to exaggerate his golfing abilities... again, we seriously doubt he is in the minority in that category either. But in the end does any of that relate to running our country?

The former president is still getting more free press than all the other hopeful candidates combined. Ironically the majority of this press coverage is about things that in years past would have tanked the candidate's campaign. I recall a guy by the name of Hart that was one of the leading presidential candidates before a picture surfaced of him on a boat with a woman that was not his wife. He tanked immediately, but Trump seems to thrive on whatever is printed about him, including all the lawsuits.

Regardless of who wins the presidency this time or the next time, we frown at the thought of giving them more power over various government agencies. The hiring and firing power is extremely controlling and the temptation to hire and fire for self-preservation is just too dangerous to be entrusted to any one person, even a certain trusty newspaper publisher.

We have seen at least one of the proposed plans for electoral district realignment following the Supreme Court ruling that existing districts were wrong. We don't have any numbers, but the pictures show District 2 (SE Alabama) losing most of Covington County and some other bits and pieces of the state while picking up others. This first plan being considered by the Alabama Legislature doesn't add, nor subtract, a district, just seems to confuse the voter with the shuffling. However this time it is the Supreme Court that is the group causing the confusion!

Sunday morning at breakfast-time we remembered having a couple of bananas that needed eating before they got 'too ripe'. Well we peeled one of them, reassuring ourselves that back where bananas are grown they laugh at us Americans for eating them 'too green'. Therefore we convinced ourselves it was alright to eat one of the rather soft bananas. That is until we took a bite of it! One bite was enough to justify trashing both of those overripe (maybe rotten) bananas. Next time we will keep them out on the counter where they will not be forgotten!

Drivers who drive through the Mulberry Heights area will be happy to know that the City of Elba has gotten some grant money and will be resurfacing a number of streets in that area. Of course those who like a challenge will miss the game of dodging the pot holes without wrecking their vehicle!

Alabama's historic grocery tax cut shows we must always attempt to accomplish what others say can't be done. . . .

Editorial by Alabama's
Lt. Gov. Will Ainsworth

Alabamians may have felt their wallets bulge a bit last month when the Legislature approved our bill that slices the sales tax on groceries in half and implements the single largest tax cut in state history.

Alabama was one of only three states that taxed groceries at the full rate - South Dakota and Mississippi are the others - and we were one of only 13 states in the nation that levied any tax on food.

But beginning on September 1, 2023, Alabama's 4% state sales tax on groceries will be cut to 3%, and another percent will be automatically deducted when revenues in the Education Trust Fund reach a trigger point that is set in the bill, which is expected to occur as soon as the next fiscal year.

Safety provisions have been put in place to ensure that education dollars are protected as the $300 million tax cut goes into effect, and we remain dedicated to fully funding our K-12 public schools, community colleges, and public universities at all times.

The bill uses the same definition of groceries as the federal food stamp program, known in D.C. nomenclature as SNAP, which means all groceries will be covered except for pre-prepared, hot food from grocery store delis.

A close in the legislation blocks cities and counties from raising their sales taxes on groceries so Alabamians can be assured of the intended savings, but it does allow officials in city halls and county complexes to follow the Legislature's lead and cut the local food tax, if they choose.

For several decades, elected officials and advocacy groups across Alabama have attempted to reduce or remove the grocery tax, but their plans always required other taxes to be raised in order to offset the revenue losses. Many of those suggested tax increases targeted middle-class families, which always doomed the efforts from the start, especially among hardcore Republicans like me.

As lieutenant governor, though, I noticed that the conservative budgeting practices implemented since Republicans gained control of the Legislature in 2010 have provided Alabama's coffers with a sizable financial cushion that did not exist before.

Our state's business sector - ranging from the largest employers to the smallest, mom-and-pop operations - remains healthy, and our continuing success in attracting both new and expanding industries is resulting in unprecedented revenues flowing to the treasury.

Putting pencil to paper and running the numbers soon revealed to me that Alabama could afford to cut the grocery tax without needing to penalize any groups or individuals by raising their existing levies.

I met with countless experts, advisors, and associations, including the grocers who collect the tax at the point of sale, to rally them to take immediate action and worked with Sen. Andrew Jones (R - Centre), House Education Budget Chair Danny Garrett (R - Trussville), and Senate Education Budget Chair Arthur Orr (R - Decatur) to create a workable plan.

Once lawmakers were briefed on our proposal, support for it spread like wildfire. All 35 members of the Alabama Senate agreed to serve as sponsors along with 100 of the 105 members of the House. I am told by many longtime State House observers that no major bill of such significance has ever achieved the same unanimous and bipartisan support.

Our dinner table tax cut will save the average Alabama family the cost of two weeks of groceries, and that financial relief is much needed in the current economic environment because the liberal fiscal policies being pushed and promoted by Joe Biden and congressional Democrats have caused inflation to skyrocket.

Cuzin Lou Lou's Tales from Yonder

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's tales are to be enjoyed as a light-hearted form of Southern expression

The Yonder Gang headed out to a community event recently, and Cuzin Lou Lou decided to take Little Bean along to enjoy the outing with the family. Of course, Sister immediately worried that it would be 'too hot' for Bean, but Lou Lou insisted she had a plan for that! Lou Lou long ago purchased a stroller for the spoiled monster. When the gang is on trips, Bean gets to ride safely in her stroller as they walk around places, and it also comes in handy when Lou Lou and Sister take walks. Bean thinks she must go on those walks with them, but she gets ready to 'relax' before the walks are over - thus, another need for the stroller.

In preparation for this particular outing, Sister wanted to know just how Lou Lou thought she had a plan for helping Bean in the heat. The answer was simple - ice packs!

"What?!?!" Sister was confused.

Lou Lou explained that she had taken some ice packs from the freezer (typically used in insulated bags, etc.) and placed them underneath the cushion in Bean's stroller. She had added a blanket for extra protection from the "cold" of the ice packs, to create a comfy, cool zone for Bean.

It was the perfect plan... at least that is what Lou Lou thought! Bean, on the other hand, had other ideas.

The gang arrived at said outing, and Bean immediately went into her stroller for the 'walk' to the event area. Once the gang picked their spot for the event, Lou Lou, Sister and Papa got their seats out and ready...it was at this point when Lou Lou realized things were not going to go as smoothly as she had planned!

There was noise and lots of people [which translated to strangers for Little Bean] at the event, and she immediately became uneasy. She insisted on either sitting in Lou Lou or Sister lap, not stay in her nice cool zone, and this meant not only was Bean going to be extra hot but so was whomever she was sitting with at the moment.

Despite all of Lou Lou's good intentions and planning, this was going to be a disaster! However, there was an escape! Luckily, this event was being held in good 'ole hometown Yonder, which meant Lou Lou could return Bean to her favorite place - HOME! Less than thirty minutes after arriving at the event, Lou Lou and Sister placed Little Bean back in her stroller and returned to the vehicle while Papa held their spots at the event. A few minutes later, the little monster was back home and in her happy place!

The only problem now was convincing Sister to not stay home too! The moment they got back home with Little Bean, Sister began contemplating staying home as well... she said it was just too hot outside. She and Little Bean are a lot alike when it comes to being a tad "spoiled"!

Lou Lou wasn't having it! "You'll be fine! You're going back with me!" she told Sister.

After a few more grumblings, Sister finally agreed to return to the event, and she managed to enjoy herself despite having to deal with a little perspiration!

Lesson learned on this trip...noisy, crowded places just aren't for Little Bean! She'd rather just stay home!! Sister would too, but Lou Lou did not give her a choice on this one ;)

Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling.

Between 2022 and 2023, the cost of food rose by an average of 7.7% according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Eggs alone cost a third more than they did last year, bread and cereal are up by 25%, and meat, fish, and chicken are substantially higher.

Our success in cutting the grocery tax demonstrates what can be accomplished if we stay true to our conservative beliefs, build consensus among lawmakers, and have the courage to attempt to accomplish what many say can't be done.

But the job is only half-complete, and work still lies ahead as I am determined and fully committed to abolishing the grocery tax altogether.

I ask all of you to join me in thanking each member of the legislature for supporting this historic tax cut. It was a true bipartisan effort. Together, we will continue making an already great state even better.

Coping with Grief When You Lose a Spouse

How can you overcome the problems you face after your spouse has died? First, you must recognize that grief is necessary, and it is something you must work through. There is no shortcut.

Vent Your Feelings. It is important that you allow yourself to vent your feelings. Take time to cry. Don't be afraid to share your tears with other mourners. Talk openly with family members and friends. Don't try to "protect" your children or other family members by hiding your sadness. Express your anger if you are feeling it. This is the time to lean on your friends. They may feel awkward for a while because they don't know how to talk to you about your loss. You can help them help you by simply telling them what you need.

Lighten Your Schedule. If you normally have a pressing schedule, try to lighten it. Remember, grief is mentally taxing. You don't need the added strain of too much to do. Set aside some quiet times just for yourself, so you can think about your spouse's death and put things in perspective.

Remember that There is No Timetable. Healing doesn't happen overnight. It happens gradually, and there is not a normal timetable for grieving. For some people it may take weeks or months to start to feel better. For others, it may take years. It's also important to remember that even if you have accepted your loss, that doesn't mean that you have forgotten the person.

What if you can't seem to handle your grief? It's important to understand there is no timetable for grief, so it is difficult to say when a person needs professional help. If you are worried you are not coping well with your grief, you might consider talking to a counselor.

CHURCH & AREA NEWS

PASTOR’S CORNER

by Paul Jackson, Pastor

Covenant Community Church

I think I’ll be just fine!

Some years ago, a preacher friend of mine named John (not his real name) called and asked if we could meet. He said he wanted to talk to me about something very important.

I said, “Sure. What do you have in mind about a time and place?”

He told me the day and time and we met at the agreed-upon place. It was good to see him again. It had been a while.

After some chit-chat, my friend told me the purpose of our meeting. He said he had some concerns that he wanted to talk about.

“What are your concerns?” I asked a little nervously, unsure of where this conversation was going.

“Paul,” he said, “you know there is only one church, right? Do you think you should be associating with the Church like you are?”

He said a few more things as I listened politely.

Then eventually it was my turn to talk.

“Well, John, thank you for your concern for me. I do appreciate that. And I want you to know that I agree with you about the one church. The Bible clearly teaches that there is but one church or ‘body of Christ’ of which all Christians are members [for example, see Col. 1:24; 3:15]. It’s just that I don’t believe that the church you are a part of is the sole expression of that one church.”

You see, John believed that he and those who belong to that denomination are the only true Christians there are. They have a lock on the truth. They have it nailed down. They understand it all, without error. John seemed rather sure of his role as arbiter of faith for anyone who would listen.

I told John that his sectarian attitude seemed arrogant to me. “What human understands the Bible perfectly?” I asked.

We continued with this back-and-forth conversation for a while longer until I had to leave for a meeting.

I ended our conversation by thanking John once more for his concern and admitting that I am sure that I was wrong about many things and had much to learn. But I told him that there was one thing that I haven’t changed my mind about, one thing that I believe more strongly today than ever, one thing that I am absolutely, unequivocally sure of.

“Do you know what that is, John?” I asked.

Before he could answer I continued: “It’s Jesus Christ. I believe in him as my Lord and Savior. I love him. No, I adore him. And my trust in him to save me is stronger and deeper today than when I began my faith journey many years ago,” I assured him. “And even if I am wrong about any number of fine points of doctrine, I know I am not wrong about Jesus. And so, I think I’ll be just fine.”

We are not saved from sin by our flawless grasp of the Bible. We are not saved by being “right” in all our viewpoints on religious matters. We all have much to learn still. That’s why I’m so grateful that God saves us by his grace through our simple trusting faith in Jesus (see Ephesians 2:8-9).

Jesus asked Peter one critical question at a pivotal moment in Peter’s journey with him: “Who do you say I am?” (Matthew 16:15).

Heart to Heart with Pastor Paul

Hello Friend...

Almost weekly I open the Clipper and read about people, some I know, who have passed away – all ages, too – young to old! It hit me especially hard this past week.

What I’m most concerned about is the salvation of people and if they are ready to meet God. At times, almost everyone I talk to says they are a Christian. I hope so. But sadly, what I know from my experience is that a lot of folks may know about Jesus and God but don’t put much effort into living as a Christian believer.

And so I wonder if they are ready for eternity. This has been so heavy on me this week.

Friend, where are you spiritually? Are you ready to die? I’m 66 and ask myself that question a lot!

I’m writing to plead with you to make sure you and God are good. Are you a true believer? If so, then follow Jesus with all your heart. He loves you so much!

But if not a Christ-follower, what are you waiting for? Daylight is burning. Night is coming. God is real. Death is certain. And eternity awaits us all!

If you want to talk, just call me and we will set a time to get together (334-845-2561).

I care and am just trying to talk to as many people as I can about the most important decision anyone will ever make.

If this appeal offends you in some way, please forgive me. It’s just that I’m compelled to try and help as many as I can to know and love God more.

Again, if I can be of help to you spiritually, call me today.

Pastor Paul Jackson

Conflicting Identities

In September 2001, San Francisco police arrested a man for robbing eight banks and attempting to rob another. When taken into custody, the man admitted his crimes. He was an unlikely suspect, since in daily life he had a $98,000 job as an air traffic controller. He was known to be very cool under the pressure of his job, a trait he exhibited during his short career as a bank robber. Described as friends as a nice, friendly person, he took his teenage sons and their friends camping and to ball games.

Investigation showed he was unable to make his salary stretch far enough to cover his expenses, which included large bills for alimony, child support, and school tuition. So, he apparently allowed another side of himself to grow alongside his law-abiding, family-man persona. The court ordered that he undergo psychiatric evaluation to determine his sanity.

It could be argued that there must be something “insane” about a man who risked a good job and his reputation in everyday life to take up a second, risky and unlawful identity. James says we demonstrate a similar type of split in our persona when we let our tongues get out of control. When Christians bless God in worship and curse others elsewhere, it may not be a mark of insanity, but it certainly doesn’t make sense. – G.R.B.

Our grandson Cannon will celebrate his first birthday in a couple of weeks and from the sounds of what his Mom is planning everyone will be in for a real treat. I tried to tell her that he won't even remember the party in a few months, but his Nanny reminded me that the party is for the parents and all the family, anyway. Oh well, as long as they save me a piece of cake I will be just fine.

For what it is worth....

 The first high school football games of the season are just over a month away and it is fun listening to fans of the various teams talk about how good their teams are going to be. Here in Elba the talk is about a possible state championship, while over in New Brockton the fans just hope the Gamecocks will show improvement, up at Zion Chapel the Rebels fans are hoping for a winning season, down in Kinston the Bulldogs fans are convinced another banner season is just around the corner, and over at Brantley the Bulldogs fans are looking forward to a big season and a run toward a title. Yep, optimism is running wild for all the area fans and that is what makes high school sports so much fun to follow.

 This week wraps up the preseason look at the schedules of the area high school football teams with a glimpse at the Zion Chapel Rebels and the Brantley Bulldogs.

The Rebels haven't hung up a region championship banner since the 1970's (1974 & 1979) and have struggled to only 17 winning seasons in 61 years. While they have been led by a total of five head coaches over the past ten years, the Rebels began to turn things around last season and are looking forward to even more success this season.

The Bulldogs have won four state championships and 32 region crowns during their 97 years on the gridiron, and boast 601 wins during their rich history. They have been led by a number of very successful head coaches, and have had only three head coaches over the last 23 seasons. The Bulldogs may have to reload this season after losing a bevy of talented seniors, but they will never have to rebuild thanks to the success of the program over the years and the belief that in Brantley all they do is win.

 Former Calhoun basketball standout JD Davidson signed a two-way contract wo the Boston Celtics last week for the 2023-2024 NBA season and in doing so will be able to move between the Celtics NBA roster and G League roster without having to go through waivers. Two-way players can play up to 50 games with the NBA team during the season, and this will mark the second straight year the two-time 'Mr. Basketball' award winner drew the two-way label. While the contract is far from what many others make in the NBA, Davidson will still make $559,782, which is half of the rookie minimum. In the Celtics summer league opener last week the 6'3" guard scored 14 points and handed out 11 assists. So, maybe before long the former Letohatchee star will make the really big bucks.

 In closing.... Way back in 1986 Crossville defeated Elba in the 3A state championship game, but in the upcoming 2023 high school football season the Lions will have to watch from the sidelines and cheer for the junior team as Crossville High School officials announced last week that the school doesn't have enough players to field a varsity team. While Elba has gone down from 3A to 1A since the state title game, Crossville has moved from 3A up to 5A, which makes last week's announcement even harder to figure out. The school officials blame such things as Covid and players leaving the school as some of the reasons for the decision, but one of the real reasons may be the fact they have posted back-to-back winless seasons. Hey, there are a lot of things for students to do now that don't include football, and many parents could care less if their children play sports. My guess is this will become more common in years to come as the society we live in continues to change.

Zion Chapel looks to continue rebuilding

The Zion Chapel Rebels will look to continue their rebuild this season on the football field and with four of their opening five games at the friendly confines of Green Memorial Stadium they will certainly have the chance to use the schedule to springboard to a winning season.

Zion Chapel has posted only two winning seasons over the past 17 years and over the last three years has posted only five wins, combined, and the Rebels have only two winning seasons since moving up to Class 2A in 2008.

Coach Cody Keene will be in his second season as the field general for the Rebels and last year led the team to a 3-7 record.

Following is a preview of this year's football schedule:
Aug. 25 Pike Liberal Arts

The Rebels will kick off the season at home with a first-ever clash against the Pike Liberal Arts Patriots. Pike Lib was a longtime powerhouse in the private school ranks, but struggled to a 3-6 record last season in its first year as a member of the AHSAA due to a schedule that included one trip to Mobile and three games in Florida.

Sept. 1 at, Goshen

The Rebels will hit the road in week action when they head to Goshen for a non-region battle against the Goshen Eagles. Zion Chapel has a 6-25 all-time record against the Eagles, has lost nine straight meetings, has posted only one win in its last 15 games and last season lost 46-21. Goshen posted a 6-4 record last season after struggling to a 1-18 record the previous two seasons.

Sept. 8 Wicksburg

The Rebels will enter the region wars in week three with a home game against the Wicksburg Panthers. Zion Chapel owns an 8-13 all-time record in the series and last season lost 42-12. Wicksburg posted a 6-6 record last season in its first year in the 2A ranks since 2013, and over the past four years has compiled a 22-21 record.

Sept. 15 Samson

The Rebels will remain at home in week four when they host the Samson Tigers, in a key region encounter. Zion Chapel has a 5-15 series record against the Tigers, but snapped a nine-game skid last season with a 19-6 win, its first over Samson since back in 1991. Samson slumped to a 1-9 record last season after posting 13 wins the previous two years.

Sept. 22 Ariton

The Rebels will lose out the homestand with a week five region clash with the Ariton Purple Cats. Zion Chapel has a 12-42 series record against the 'Cats, has lost six straight since a 31-30 win in 2014, and last season dropped a 35-0 decision. Ariton posted its second straight 10-win season a year ago and has won nine or more games five of the last six years.

Sept. 29 at, Pleasant Home

The Rebels will step out of region play and get back on the road when they travel to Pleasant Home to tangle with the Pleasant Home Eagles. Zion Chapel boasts a 12-5 series advantage, has won six straight contests and last season rolled to a 28-19 win. Pleasant Home has struggled to a 3-17 record the past two seasons and has posted two wins or less in eight of the last ten years.

Brantley has sights set on another title

The Brantley Bulldogs have been the measuring stick for success in the 1A ranks for over a decade and their fans will tell you quickly that the 'road to the state title' runs through their small town. While that could be true again this season, a schedule that includes two home games to open the season and two home games to close the season, with five of the remaining six games on the road, could pose a threat to the 'Dogs dominance.

Brantley has been a football power for over three decades with 32 region titles and 4 state titles to show for their hard work and success.

Coach Roland Jones will be entering his sixth season as the head coach at Brantley and is already the third winningest coach in school history with a 53-11 record.

Following is a preview of this season's football schedule:

Aug. 25 Luverne

The Bulldogs will kick off the season at home with its biggest rival when they meet the Luverne Tigers on the gridiron for the 90th time. Brantley has a 31-55-3 record in the series, but has won the last two meetings, including a 31-7 win a year ago. Luverne is coming off a 6-5 record after posting a total of 50 wins the previous five years.

Sept. 1 Houston County

The Bulldogs will enter the region wars in a week two clash at home against the Houston County Lions. Brantley owns a 6-0 series record against the Lions and last season posted a 33-7 win. Houston County has struggled to post only 11 ins in the last five years, combined.

Sept. 8 at, McKenzie

The Bulldogs will hit the road in week three for a region clash against the McKenzie Tigers. Brantley owns a 39-17-2 edge in the series, has won the last 12 meetings, has averaged over 53 points a game in the last six wins, and last season rolled to an easy 42-6 victory. McKenzie struggled to a 1-8 record last season, its third one-win season in the past five years.

Sept. 15 Elba

The Bulldogs will be back at home in week four for a region showdown against the Elba Tigers. Brantley has a 13-33 all-time record in the series, has won only one of the last four meetings, and last season dropped a 42-35 decision. Ela has rolled to 16 straight winning seasons and over the last two years has a combined record of 21-3.

Sept. 22 at, Kinston

The Bulldogs will hit the road in week five for a region clash against the Kinston Bulldogs. Brantley owns a 33-4 series edge over their region foe, has won the last 25 meetings, in the last three wins has outscored Kinston 142-6, and last year posted a 53-6 victory. Kinston has won 12 games over the last two seasons, including eight wins over region opponents.

Sept. 28 at, Highland Home

The Bulldogs will step away from the region wars in week six when they head up the road to Highland Home to battle the Highland Home Flying Squadron. Brantley has a 55-23 series edge over their county rivals in a series that started back in 1929, but saw its eight-game winning rector Jennifer Amlong explains. "It was an outreach event. Kids that knew about Marley Acres were made aware of library programs and vice versa."

The impact on the community of Elba is profound. While the farm's followers extend beyond the local area, Whitworth recognizes the lack of familiarity with in the community.

"There's many people in Elba who have no idea we're here" she explained.

Bradley Chapman, a recent Elba High graduate, eagerly embraced an opportunity recently to help with sheep shearing, guided by Jamie Whitworth. He did a lot of brunt work, such as wrestling the rams and sheep to get them into the perfect shearing position. Chapman describes shearing as "a very exciting opportunity."

With enthusiasm he took the challenge of "tackling the sheep to the ground." He was quick to take initiative in learning the technique. Chapman was marveled by the opportunity to "see what farm life could be like." Ensuring the safety of yourself and the animals is always a top priority on the farm.

Youngsters enjoy petting the animals at Marley Acres

Precisely trimming the wool and making sure the animals were always comfortable helped the process to go smoothly.

As for the future, the Whitworths envision Marley Acres as more than just a retirement plan.

"It will be part of my daily adventure," Whitworth explained.

In the years to come, Marley Acres will continue to be a beacon of hope for both humans and animals.

Pastor's Corner

Peter's answer is breathtaking: "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God" (vs.16).

If you know anything about Peter, you know that he had much to learn. He would grow and change in some remarkable ways. But his new life with Jesus turned on his faith in him as God's Son and his savior. Nothing more; nothing less.

It still does. It's the same for us today, too.

Toward the end of Peter's life, he wrote the following:

"Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! In his great mercy he has given us new birth into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, and into an inheritance that can never perish, spoil or fade—kept in heaven for you, who through faith are shielded by God's power until the coming of the salvation that is ready to be revealed in the last time. In this you greatly rejoice....Though you have not seen him, you love him; and even though you do not see him now, you believe in him and are filled with an inexpressible and glorious joy, for you are receiving the goal of your faith, the salvation of your souls" (1 Peter 1:3-6a, 8-9).

I believe.

That's why I still think that I'll be just fine.

Rural Road Safety Awareness Week underway in Alabama

The Alabama Law Enforcement Agency (ALEA) is joining the Alabama Transportation Institute in kicking off National Rural Road Safety Awareness Week (RRSAW), which runs today, July 17, through Friday, July 21. The weeklong observance is part of a nationwide campaign spearheaded by the National Center for Rural Road Safety and drives home the need to slow down as speeding is one of the top contributing factors in rural crashes.

The overall theme and question safety partners are asking motorists to consider during RRSAW 2023 is "What's Speed Got To Do With It?" Throughout the campaign, various topics will be identified to raise awareness and address speed management on rural roads.

ALEA Secretary Hal Taylor said, "Every campaign and initiative that our Agency launches or participates in has tremendous value; however, National Rural Road Safety Awareness Week is structured specifically for states like Alabama. Driving a motor vehicle can be hazardous on any roadway due to varying factors and conditions. While on rural routes, drivers must be especially careful and use extreme caution as it relates to speed management and overall vehicle operation. The key is understanding that every roadway has a specific speed at which motorists can safely travel. When drivers exceed those speed limits, crashes, injuries and fatalities are much more likely to occur."

According to data compiled from 2018 to 2022 by the Center for Advanced Public Safety (CAPS) in Alabama, rural crashes account for nearly 25 percent of all traffic crashes. In 2022, 4,453 of Alabama's traffic crashes involved speeding on rural roads, resulting in 159 fatalities. So far in 2023, 1,930 crashes have occurred on rural roads in Alabama due to speeding, resulting in 49 fatalities.

Dr. Steven Jones, Interim Executive Director of the Alabama Transportation Institute, said, "The Alabama Transportation Institute endorses the Rural Road Safety Awareness Week starting Monday, July 17. The Institute, through its Center for Advanced Public Safety, is committed to promoting safety on all roads in Alabama and is especially attuned to the unique challenges in rural areas. In addition to our work in Alabama, the Institute is part of the National Center for Rural Road Safety, and we are working with the national organization to promote the reduction of excessive speeding on rural roads across the nation."

Secretary Taylor said, "Tragically, we have lost too many lives on Alabama roadways, but especially on our rural routes. We must take this campaign seriously and help prevent needless crashes on our roadways. In addition to educating the public on the dangers of speeding, we are also using this safety campaign to stress the importance of seat-belt usage, as well as why driving while under the influence of alcohol and drugs is so dangerous."

According to CAPS data, rural DUI crashes account for 41 percent of all DUI crashes recorded, and DUI rural crashes also account for 53 percent of all DUI fatalities in Alabama. In 2022, 1,991 DUI-related crashes occurred on rural roads, resulting in 137 fatalities. So far in 2023, 884 DUI-related crashes have occurred on rural roads, resulting in 50 fatalities.

This week's campaign assets will include social media graphics, post cards, posters, articles, fact sheets, and other resources. For more information on this year's RRSAW, visit the National Center for Rural Road Safety's RRSAW campaign page.

2. HOW DO I KNOW IF MY CHILDREN QUALIFY AS HOMELESS, MIGRANT, OR RUNAWAY? Do the members of your household lack a permanent address? Are you staying together in a shelter, hotel, or other temporary housing arrangement? Does your family relocate on a seasonal basis? Are any children living with you who have chosen to leave their prior family or household? If you believe children in your household meet these descriptions and haven't been told your children will get free meals, please call or e-mail your child(ren)'s school.

3. DO I NEED TO FILL OUT AN APPLICATION FOR EACH CHILD? No. Use one Free and Reduced Price School Meals Application for all students in your household. We cannot approve an application that is not complete, so be sure to fill out all required information. Return the completed application to your child(ren)'s school.

4. SHOULD I FILL OUT AN APPLICATION IF I RECEIVED A LETTER THIS SCHOOL YEAR SAYING MY CHILDREN ARE ALREADY APPROVED FOR FREE MEALS? No, but please read the letter you got carefully and follow the instructions. If any children in your household were missing from your eligibility notification, contact your child(ren)'s school immediately.

5. CAN I APPLY ONLINE?

☒ X Yes! You are encouraged to complete an online application instead of a paper application if you are able. The online application has the same requirements and will ask you for the same information as the paper application. Visit our web site to begin or to learn more about the online application process. Contact Betsy Wood at (334) 897-5016 if you have any questions about the online application.

☐ No, an online application is not available at this time.

6. MY CHILD'S APPLICATION WAS APPROVED LAST YEAR. DO I NEED TO FILL OUT A NEW ONE? Yes. Your child's application is only good for that school year and for the first few days of this school year, through September 18, 2023. You must send in a new application unless the school told you that your child is eligible for the new school year. If you do not send in a new application that is approved by the school or you have not been notified that your child is eligible for free meals, your child will be charged the full price for meals.

7. I GET WIC. CAN MY CHILDREN GET FREE MEALS? Children in households participating in WIC may be eligible for free or reduced price meals. Please send in an application.

8. WILL THE INFORMATION I GIVE BE CHECKED? Yes. In accordance with program regulations school officials will be verifying the income of some households at some time during the school year. Selected households will be requested to provide income documentation in order to continue receiving free and reduced-price meals.

9. IF I DON'T QUALIFY NOW, MAY I APPLY LATER? Yes, you may apply at any time during the school year. For example, children with a parent or guardian who becomes unemployed may become eligible for free and reduced price meals if the household income drops below the income limit.

10. WHAT IF I DISAGREE WITH THE SCHOOL'S DECISION ABOUT MY APPLICATION? You should talk to school officials. You also may ask for a hearing by calling or writing to: Kelly Cobb, 400 Reddoch Hill Road, Elba, Alabama 36323, (334) 897-5016, cobbk@coffeecounty.k12.al.us.

11. MAY I APPLY IF SOMEONE IN MY HOUSEHOLD IS NOT A U.S. CITIZEN? Yes. You, your children, or other household members do not have to be U.S. citizens to apply for free or reduced price meals.

12. WHAT IF MY INCOME IS NOT ALWAYS THE SAME? List the amount that you normally receive. For example, if you normally make $1000 each month, but you missed some work last month and only made $900, put down that you made $1000 per month. If you normally get overtime, include it, but do not include it if you only work overtime sometimes. If you have lost a job or had your hours or wages reduced, use your current income.

13. WHAT IF SOME HOUSEHOLD MEMBERS HAVE NO INCOME TO REPORT? Household members may not receive some types of income we ask you to report on the application or may not receive income at all. Whenever this happens, please write a 0 in the field. However, if any income fields are left empty or blank, those will also be counted as zeroes. Please be careful when leaving income fields blank, as we will assume you meant to do so.

14. DO I HAVE TO PROVIDE MY SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER? Only the last 4 digits of the social security number of the household's primary wage earner or another adult household member (or an indication of "none") is required.

15. MAY I DECLINE BENEFITS? Yes. Households notified of their children's eligibility must contact Betsy Wood or school if they choose to decline the free meal benefits.

16. WHAT IF ALL CHILDREN ELIGIBLE FOR BENEFITS ARE NOT ON THE NOTICE OF ELIGIBILITY LETTER? If children or households receive benefits under Assistance Programs or Other Source Categorically Eligible Programs and are not listed on the notice of eligibility and are not notified by the school of their free meal benefits, the parent or guardian should contact the school or should submit an income application.

17. WE ARE IN THE MILITARY. DO WE REPORT OUR INCOME DIFFERENTLY? Your basic pay and cash bonuses must be reported as income. If you get any cash value allowances for off-base housing, food, or clothing, it must also be included as income. However, if your housing is part of the Military Housing Privatization Initiative, do not include your housing allowance as income. Any additional combat pay resulting from deployment is also excluded from income.

18. WHAT IF THERE ISN'T ENOUGH SPACE ON THE APPLICATION FOR MY FAMILY? List any additional household members on a separate piece of paper and attach it to your application. Contact your child(ren)'s school to receive a second application.

19. MY FAMILY NEEDS MORE HELP. ARE THERE OTHER PROGRAMS WE MIGHT APPLY FOR? To find out how to apply for Alabama SNAP or other assistance benefits, contact your local assistance office or call Alabama hotline number - 800-382-0499.

If you have other questions or need help, call (334) 897-5016.
Sincerely, Betsy Wood
